For the grown ups.....

Flying Colours Education Book Club sessions are a great, non-threatening and fun way for kids to learn the deeper comprehension strategies they need while reading. Our book club sessions are self-directed and highly motivating. The program is designed to build children's comprehension skills by responding to texts through meaningful activities in a variety of creative ways. This is a great social activity for kids to do in the holidays. The sessions are designed to promote group work and communication skills in a relaxed and fun environment.

This workshop is ideal for year kids in year 3 and above.

The Workshops

The Comprehension workshop runs over 5 mornings. Each 1.5 hour session will consist of a book club meeting, allocation of roles, reading and then responding. Each session ends with another meeting to share and discuss thoughts, feelings and opinions of what has been read and sharing their reading responses with the group. This workshop is packed with so much fun, your child won't even realise they're learning.

At Flying Colours our teachers know how to create a fun, inclusive, and engaging learning environment.
